What is a variable annuity?

A variable annuity is a long-term, tax-deferred investment designed for retirement, involves investment risks, and may lose value. Earnings are taxable as ordinary income when distributed. Individuals may be subject to a 10% additional tax for withdrawals before age 59½ unless an exception to the tax is met.

* Diversification does not assure a profit or protect against loss in a declining market.

† Select up to a maximum of 99 investments and adjust options or allocations up to 25 times each contract year without transfer fees. To prevent abusive trading practices, Jackson restricts the frequency of transfers among variable investment options, including trading out of and back into the same subaccount within a 15-day period.

What are asset allocation portfolios?

Asset allocation portfolios are a strategic blend of equities, fixed income, and alternatives. Serving as the investment advisor for Jackson, Jackson National Asset Management, LLC® (JNAM) has developed parameters to help align risk tolerance to different investment allocations. The examples below illustrate a targeted neutral allocation for five types of asset allocation portfolios. Target allocations are for illustrative purposes only and are subject to change.

Equity—The price of equity or equity-related securities fluctuates and can decline and reduce the value of a portfolio investing in these securities.

Fixed income—Fixed income prices respond to changing economic environments, including interest rate changes, credit risk, and call features that could negatively affect the price and/or result in reinvestment in lower-yielding securities.

Foreign securities—Investments in foreign securities are subject to potential adverse fluctuations in foreign currency values, less publicly available information, and the possible imposition of foreign withholding taxes on income payable on the securities. Securities may be more volatile and less liquid than in U.S. markets.

Alternative investments—Alternative investment strategies such as leveraging, arbitrage, and commodities investing are subject to greater risks and volatility than more traditional investment offerings.

Diverse* investments. Expertly constructed.

ALLOCATIONS ALIGNED TO RISK TOLERANCE

In addition to individual investment options available in the Elite Access Suite of variable and fixed annuities, Jackson asset allocation portfolios can help you achieve greater diversity. Built by highly regarded asset management firms, not only do they let you choose the risk profile of the subaccount you're comfortable taking, but these portfolios also offer:

- Convenience—Access to actively managed fund-of-funds that focuses on a single strategy you can or diversify among many asset classes.
- Ongoing professional management—Maintain the objectives of your investment strategy with expert portfolio managers who oversee your underlying investment allocations.
- World-class investment strategies—Each portfolio is composed of individual strategies from premier, well-known asset managers.

These expertly constructed portfolios employ a broad range of asset classes and management styles and often address a specific investing challenge.
