Topic 820, "Fair Value Measurement" establishes a single authoritative definition of fair value under U.S. GAAP, sets out a framework for measuring fair value and requires additional disclosures about fair value measurements. Various inputs are used in determining the value of a Fund's investments under FASB ASC Topic 820 guidance and are summarized into three broad categories. Level 1 includes valuations based on quoted prices of identical securities in active markets, including valuations for investments in mutual funds. Investments in the Underlying Funds and Master Funds are categorized as Level 1 within FASB ASC Topic 820 fair value hierarchy. The Level 1 valuation assets for the Funds can be referenced in the Schedules of Investments.

- (a) All or a portion of the security was on loan as of December 31, 2024.
- (b) All or a portion of the security was purchased on a delayed delivery basis. As of December 31, 2024, the total payable for investments purchased on a delayed delivery basis was $56,256.
- (c) Security has a variable rate. Interest rates reset periodically. Rate stated was in effect as of December 31, 2024. For securities based on a published reference rate and spread, the reference rate and spread are presented. Certain variable rate securities do not indicate a reference rate and spread because they are determined by the issuer, remarketing agent, or offering documents and are based on current market conditions. The coupon rate for securities with certain features outlined in the offering documents may vary from the stated reference rate and spread. This includes, but is not limited to, securities with deferred rates, contingent distributions, caps, floors, and fixed-rate to float-rate features. In addition, variable rates for government and agency collateralized mortgage obligations ("CMO") and mortgage-backed securities ("MBS") are determined by tranches of underlying mortgage-backed security pools' cash flows into securities and pass-through rates which reflect the rate earned on the asset pool after management and guarantee fees are paid to the securitizing corporation. CMO and MBS variable rates are determined by a formula set forth in the security's offering documents.
- (d) The security is a direct debt of the agency and not collateralized by mortgages.
- (e) Convertible security.
- (f) Security issued with a zero coupon. Income is recognized through the accretion of discount.
- (g) The interest rate for this security is inversely affected by upgrades or downgrades to the credit rating of the issuer. Rate stated was the coupon as of December 31, 2024.
- (h) Security is restricted to resale to institutional investors or subject to trading restrictions due to sanctions on foreign issuers. See Restricted Securities table following the Schedules of Investments.
- (i) Security is a step-up bond where the coupon may increase or step up at a future date or as the result of an upgrade or downgrade to the credit rating of the issuer. Rate stated was the coupon as of December 31, 2024.
- (j) Security is exempt from registration under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended. As of December 31, 2024, the value and the percentage of net assets of these securities was $1,178 and 0.1% of the Fund.
- (k) Investment in affiliate.
- (l) Yield changes daily to reflect current market conditions. Rate was the quoted yield as of December 31, 2024.

- (a) Non-income producing security.
- (b) Security is restricted to resale to institutional investors or subject to trading restrictions due to sanctions on foreign issuers. See Restricted Securities table following the Schedules of Investments.
- (c) All or a portion of the security is pledged or segregated as collateral.
- (d) Security fair valued in good faith as a Level 3 security in accordance with the procedures approved by the Board of Trustees. Good faith fair valued securities are classified based on the applicable valuation inputs. See "Fair Value Measurement" in the Notes to Financial Statements.
- (e) All or a portion of the security was on loan as of December 31, 2024.
- (f) All or a portion of the security is subject to a written call option.
- (g) Convertible security.
- (h) Security is exempt from registration under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended. As of December 31, 2024, the value and the percentage of net assets of these securities was $44,606 and 5.6% of the Fund.
- (i) Security issued with a zero coupon. Income is recognized through the accretion of discount.
- (j) As of December 31, 2024, issuer was in bankruptcy and/or was in default relating to principal and/or interest. Partial or no payments were paid on the last interest or dividend date.
- (k) Security has a variable rate. Interest rates reset periodically. Rate stated was in effect as of December 31, 2024. For securities based on a published reference rate and spread, the reference rate and spread are presented. Certain variable rate securities do not indicate a reference rate and spread because they are determined by the issuer, remarketing agent, or offering documents and are based on current market conditions. The coupon rate for securities with certain features outlined in the offering documents may vary from the stated reference rate and spread. This includes, but is not limited to, securities with deferred rates, contingent distributions, caps, floors, and fixed-rate to float-rate features. In addition, variable rates for government and agency collateralized mortgage obligations ("CMO") and mortgage-backed securities ("MBS") are determined by tranches of underlying mortgage-backed security pools' cash flows into securities and pass-through rates which reflect the rate earned on the asset pool after management and guarantee fees are paid to the securitizing corporation. CMO and MBS variable rates are determined by a formula set forth in the security's offering documents.

- (l) Pay-in-kind security. Stated coupon is the pay-in-kind rate. The interest earned by the security may be paid in cash or additional par.
- (m) Perpetual security. Next contractual call price and date are presented in parentheses, if applicable.
- (n) Security is a step-up bond where the coupon may increase or step up at a future date or as the result of an upgrade or downgrade to the credit rating of the issuer. Rate stated was the coupon as of December 31, 2024.
- (o) This senior floating rate interest will settle after December 31, 2024. If a reference rate and spread is presented, it will go into effect upon settlement.
- (p) Contingent distributions represent the right to receive additional distributions, if any, during the reorganization of the underlying company.
- (q) Investment in affiliate.
- (r) Yield changes daily to reflect current market conditions. Rate was the quoted yield as of December 31, 2024.

- (a) Security has a variable rate. Interest rates reset periodically. Rate stated was in effect as of December 31, 2024. For securities based on a published reference rate and spread, the reference rate and spread are presented. Certain variable rate securities do not indicate a reference rate and spread because they are determined by the issuer, remarketing agent, or offering documents and are based on current market conditions. The coupon rate for securities with certain features outlined in the offering documents may vary from the stated reference rate and spread. This includes, but is not limited to, securities with deferred rates, contingent distributions, caps, floors, and fixed-rate to float-rate features. In addition, variable rates for government and agency collateralized mortgage obligations ("CMO") and mortgage-backed securities ("MBS") are determined by tranches of underlying mortgage-backed security pools' cash flows into securities and pass-through rates which reflect the rate earned on the asset pool after management and guarantee fees are paid to the securitizing corporation. CMO and MBS variable rates are determined by a formula set forth in the security's offering documents.
- (b) This senior floating rate interest will settle after December 31, 2024. If a reference rate and spread is presented, it will go into effect upon settlement.
- (c) Security fair valued in good faith as a Level 3 security in accordance with the procedures approved by the Board of Trustees. Good faith fair valued securities are classified based on the applicable valuation inputs. See "Fair Value Measurement" in the Notes to Financial Statements.
- (d) Pay-in-kind security. Stated coupon is the pay-in-kind rate. The interest earned by the security may be paid in cash or additional par.
- (e) Security is exempt from registration under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended. As of December 31, 2024, the value and the percentage of net assets of these securities was $61,554 and 5.6% of the Fund.
- (f) Security is a step-up bond where the coupon may increase or step up at a future date or as the result of an upgrade or downgrade to the credit rating of the issuer. Rate stated was the coupon as of December 31, 2024.
- (g) Perpetual security. Next contractual call price and date are presented in parentheses, if applicable.
- (h) Non-income producing security.
- (i) Security fair valued in good faith as a Level 2 security in accordance with the procedures approved by the Board of Trustees. Good faith fair valued securities are classified based on the applicable valuation inputs. See "Fair Value Measurement" in the Notes to Financial Statements.
- (j) Security is restricted to resale to institutional investors or subject to trading restrictions due to sanctions on foreign issuers. See Restricted Securities table following the Schedules of Investments.
- (k) Contingent distributions represent the right to receive additional distributions, if any, during the reorganization of the underlying company.
- (l) Investment in affiliate.
- (m) Yield changes daily to reflect current market conditions. Rate was the quoted yield as of December 31, 2024.

effect as of December 31, 2024. For securities based on a published reference rate and spread, the reference rate and spread are presented. Certain variable rate securities do not indicate a reference rate and spread because they are determined by the issuer, remarketing agent, or offering documents and are based on current market conditions. The coupon rate for securities with certain features outlined in the offering documents may vary from the stated reference rate and spread. This includes, but is not limited to, securities with deferred rates, contingent distributions, caps, floors, and fixed-rate to float-rate features. In addition, variable rates for government and agency collateralized mortgage obligations ("CMO") and mortgage-backed securities ("MBS") are determined by tranches of underlying mortgage-backed security pools' cash flows into securities and pass-through rates which reflect the rate earned on the asset pool after management and guarantee fees are paid to the securitizing corporation. CMO and MBS variable rates are determined by a formula set forth in the security's offering documents.

(j) Pay-in-kind security. Stated coupon is the pay-in-kind rate. The interest earned by the security may be paid in cash or additional par.
(k) The interest rate for this security is inversely affected by upgrades or downgrades to the credit rating of the issuer. Rate stated was the coupon as of December 31, 2024.
(l) Convertible security.
(m) Security issued with a zero coupon. Income is recognized through the accretion of discount.
(n) As of December 31, 2024, issuer was in bankruptcy and/or was in default relating to principal and/or interest. Partial or no payments were paid on the last interest or dividend date.

(p) Treasury inflation indexed note, par amount is adjusted for inflation.
(q) This senior floating rate interest will settle after December 31, 2024. If a reference rate and spread is presented, it will go into effect upon settlement.
(r) Security fair valued in good faith as a Level 2 security in accordance with the procedures approved by the Board of Trustees. Good faith fair valued securities are classified based on the applicable valuation inputs. See "Fair Value Measurement" in the Notes to Financial Statements.

- (a) Security has a variable rate. Interest rates reset periodically. Rate stated was in effect as of December 31, 2024. For securities based on a published reference rate and spread, the reference rate and spread are presented. Certain variable rate securities do not indicate a reference rate and spread because they are determined by the issuer, remarketing agent, or offering documents and are based on current market conditions. The coupon rate for securities with certain features outlined in the offering documents may vary from the stated reference rate and spread. This includes, but is not limited to, securities with deferred rates, contingent distributions, caps, floors, and fixed-rate to float-rate features. In addition, variable rates for government and agency collateralized mortgage obligations ("CMO") and mortgage-backed securities ("MBS") are determined by tranches of underlying mortgage-backed security pools' cash flows into securities and pass-through rates which reflect the rate earned on the asset pool after management and guarantee fees are paid to the securitizing corporation. CMO and MBS variable rates are determined by a formula set forth in the security's offering documents.
- (b) Security issued with a zero coupon. Income is recognized through the accretion of discount.
- (c) Security is restricted to resale to institutional investors or subject to trading restrictions due to sanctions on foreign issuers. See Restricted Securities table following the Schedules of Investments.
- (d) Security is exempt from registration under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended. As of December 31, 2024, the value and the percentage of net assets of these securities was $244,988 and 8.8% of the Fund.
- (e) All or a portion of the security was on loan as of December 31, 2024.
- (f) Security is a step-up bond where the coupon may increase or step up at a future date or as the result of an upgrade or downgrade to the credit rating of the issuer. Rate stated was the coupon as of December 31, 2024.
- (g) Pay-in-kind security. Stated coupon is the pay-in-kind rate. The interest earned by the security may be paid in cash or additional par.
- (h) Perpetual security. Next contractual call price and date are presented in parentheses, if applicable.
- (i) Non-income producing security.
- (j) As of December 31, 2024, issuer was in bankruptcy and/or was in default relating to principal and/or interest. Partial or no payments were paid on the last interest or dividend date.
- (k) Convertible security.
- (l) The interest rate for this security is inversely affected by upgrades or downgrades to the credit rating of the issuer. Rate stated was the coupon as of December 31, 2024.
- (m) Security fair valued in good faith as a Level 3 security in accordance with the procedures approved by the Board of Trustees. Good faith fair valued securities are classified based on the applicable valuation inputs. See "Fair Value Measurement" in the Notes to Financial Statements.
- (n) This senior floating rate interest will settle after December 31, 2024. If a reference rate and spread is presented, it will go into effect upon settlement.
- (o) Investment in affiliate.
- (p) Yield changes daily to reflect current market conditions. Rate was the quoted yield as of December 31, 2024.

Schedules of Investments (in thousands)
December 31, 2024

- (a) Security is restricted to resale to institutional investors or subject to trading restrictions due to sanctions on foreign issuers. See Restricted Securities table following the Schedules of Investments.
- (b) Security has a variable rate. Interest rates reset periodically. Rate stated was in effect as of December 31, 2024. For securities based on a published reference rate and spread, the reference rate and spread are presented. Certain variable rate securities do not indicate a reference rate and spread because they are determined by the issuer, remarketing agent, or offering documents and are based on current market conditions. The coupon rate for securities with certain features outlined in the offering documents may vary from the stated reference rate and spread. This includes, but is not limited to, securities with deferred rates, contingent distributions, caps, floors, and fixed-rate to float-rate features. In addition, variable rates for government and agency collateralized mortgage obligations ("CMO") and mortgage-backed securities ("MBS") are determined by tranches of underlying mortgage-backed security pools' cash flows into securities and pass-through rates which reflect the rate earned on the asset pool after management and guarantee fees are paid to the securitizing corporation. CMO and MBS variable rates are determined by a formula set forth in the security's offering documents.
- (c) Perpetual security. Next contractual call price and date are presented in parentheses, if applicable.
- (d) Security is exempt from registration under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended. As of December 31, 2024, the value and the percentage of net assets of these securities was $46,524 and 13.8% of the Fund.
- (e) Non-income producing security.

- (a) Security has a variable rate. Interest rates reset periodically. Rate stated was in effect as of December 31, 2024. For securities based on a published reference rate and spread, the reference rate and spread are presented. Certain variable rate securities do not indicate a reference rate and spread because they are determined by the issuer, remarketing agent, or offering documents and are based on current market conditions. The coupon rate for securities with certain features outlined in the offering documents may vary from the stated reference rate and spread. This includes, but is not limited to, securities with deferred rates, contingent distributions, caps, floors, and fixed-rate to float-rate features. In addition, variable rates for government and agency collateralized mortgage obligations ("CMO") and mortgage-backed securities ("MBS") are determined by tranches of underlying mortgage-backed security pools' cash flows into securities and pass-through rates which reflect the rate earned on the asset pool after management and guarantee fees are paid to the securitizing corporation. CMO and MBS variable rates are determined by a formula set forth in the security's offering documents.
- (b) Security is a step-up bond where the coupon may increase or step up at a future date or as the result of an upgrade or downgrade to the credit rating of the issuer. Rate stated was the coupon as of December 31, 2024.
- (c) Security is exempt from registration under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended. As of December 31, 2024, the value and the percentage of net assets of these securities was $83,948 and 4.9% of the Fund.
- (d) Security is restricted to resale to institutional investors or subject to trading restrictions due to sanctions on foreign issuers. See Restricted Securities table following the Schedules of Investments.
- (e) Convertible security.
- (f) Security issued with a zero coupon. Income is recognized through the accretion of discount.
- (g) The interest rate for this security is inversely affected by upgrades or downgrades to the credit rating of the issuer. Rate stated was the coupon as of December 31, 2024.
- (h) Perpetual security. Next contractual call price and date are presented in parentheses, if applicable.
- (i) Security fair valued in good faith as a Level 3 security in accordance with the procedures approved by the Board of Trustees. Good faith fair valued securities are classified based on the applicable valuation inputs. See "Fair Value Measurement" in the Notes to Financial Statements.
- (j) This senior floating rate interest will settle after December 31, 2024. If a reference rate and spread is presented, it will go into effect upon settlement.
- (k) Non-income producing security.
- (l) As of December 31, 2024, issuer was in bankruptcy and/or was in default relating to principal and/or interest. Partial or no payments were paid on the last interest or dividend date.
- (m) Investment in affiliate.
- (n) Yield changes daily to reflect current market conditions. Rate was the quoted yield as of December 31, 2024.

‡Schiller Barclays CAPE US Sector Index aims to provide notional long exposure to the top four United States equity sectors that are relatively undervalued, as defined by a modified version of the classic CAPE Ratio (the "Relative CAPE Indicator") and that possess relatively strong price momentum over the period of six months. Each U.S. sector is represented by an ETF that invests primarily in equity securities of companies in the relevant sector. The components of the index are publicly available at <https://indices.cib.barclays/IM/12/en/indices/details.app;ticker=BXIICS2E#documents>.

(a) Security has a variable rate. Interest rates reset periodically. Rate stated was in effect as of December 31, 2024. For securities based on a published reference rate and spread, the reference rate and spread are presented. Certain variable rate securities do not indicate a reference rate and spread because they are determined by the issuer, remarketing agent, or offering documents and are based on current market conditions. The coupon rate for securities with certain features outlined in the offering documents may vary from the stated reference rate and spread. This includes, but is not limited to, securities with deferred rates, contingent distributions, caps, floors, and fixed-rate to float-rate features. In addition, variable rates for government and agency collateralized mortgage obligations ("CMO") and mortgage-backed securities ("MBS") are determined by tranches of underlying mortgage-backed security pools' cash flows into securities and pass-through rates which reflect the rate earned on the asset pool after management and guarantee fees are paid to the securitizing corporation. CMO and MBS variable rates are determined by a formula set forth in the security's offering documents.

- (b) Security fair valued in good faith as a Level 3 security in accordance with the procedures approved by the Board of Trustees. Good faith fair valued securities are classified based on the applicable valuation inputs. See "Fair Value Measurement" in the Notes to Financial Statements.
- (c) Security is a step-up bond where the coupon may increase or step up at a future date or as the result of an upgrade or downgrade to the credit rating of the issuer. Rate stated was the coupon as of December 31, 2024.
- (d) Security is exempt from registration under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended. As of December 31, 2024, the value and the percentage of net assets of these securities was $9,631 and 0.5% of the Fund.
- (e) Investment in affiliate.
- (f) Yield changes daily to reflect current market conditions. Rate was the quoted yield as of December 31, 2024.

(a)	All or a portion of the security is pledged or segregated as collateral.
(b)	All or a portion of the security was purchased on a delayed delivery basis. As of December 31, 2024, the total payable for investments purchased on a delayed delivery basis was $109,004.
(c)	Security issued with a zero coupon. Income is recognized through the accretion of discount.
(d)	Security is exempt from registration under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended. As of December 31, 2024, the value and the percentage of net assets of these securities was $138,664 and 9.2% of the Fund.
(e)	Security is a step-up bond where the coupon may increase or step up at a future date or as the result of an upgrade or downgrade to the credit rating of the issuer. Rate stated was the coupon as of December 31, 2024.
(f)	Security has a variable rate. Interest rates reset periodically. Rate stated was in effect as of December 31, 2024. For securities based on a published reference rate and spread, the reference rate and spread are presented. Certain variable rate securities do not indicate a reference rate and spread because they are determined by the issuer, remarketing agent, or offering documents and are based on current market conditions. The coupon rate for securities with certain features outlined in the offering documents may vary from the stated reference rate and spread. This includes, but is not limited to, securities with deferred rates, contingent distributions, caps, floors, and fixed-rate to float-rate features. In addition, variable rates for government and agency collateralized mortgage obligations ("CMO") and mortgage-backed securities ("MBS") are determined by tranches of underlying mortgage-backed security pools' cash flows into securities and pass-through rates which reflect the rate earned on the asset pool after management and guarantee fees are paid to the securitizing corporation. CMO and MBS variable rates are determined by a formula set forth in the security's offering documents.
(g)	Non-income producing security.
(h)	As of December 31, 2024, issuer was in bankruptcy and/or was in default relating to principal and/or interest. Partial or no payments were paid on the last interest or dividend date.
(i)	Security is restricted to resale to institutional investors or subject to trading restrictions due to sanctions on foreign issuers. See Restricted Securities table following the Schedules of Investments.
(j)	All or a portion of the security was on loan as of December 31, 2024.
(k)	Security fair valued in good faith as a Level 3 security in accordance with the procedures approved by the Board of Trustees. Good faith fair valued securities are classified based on the applicable valuation inputs. See "Fair Value Measurement" in the Notes to Financial Statements.
(l)	Perpetual security. Next contractual call price and date are presented in parentheses, if applicable.
(m)	Pay-in-kind security. Stated coupon is the pay-in-kind rate. The interest earned by the security may be paid in cash or additional par.
(n)	Convertible security.
(o)	The interest rate for this security is inversely affected by upgrades or downgrades to the credit rating of the issuer. Rate stated was the coupon as of December 31, 2024.
(p)	This senior floating rate interest will settle after December 31, 2024. If a reference rate and spread is presented, it will go into effect upon settlement.
(q)	Security fair valued in good faith as a Level 2 security in accordance with the procedures approved by the Board of Trustees. Good faith fair valued securities are classified based on the applicable valuation inputs. See "Fair Value Measurement" in the Notes to Financial Statements.
(r)	Investment in affiliate.
(s)	Yield changes daily to reflect current market conditions. Rate was the quoted yield as of December 31, 2024.

(h) Security has a variable rate. Interest rates reset periodically. Rate stated was in

- effect as of December 31, 2024. For securities based on a published reference rate and spread, the reference rate and spread are presented. Certain variable rate securities do not indicate a reference rate and spread because they are determined by the issuer, remarketing agent, or offering documents and are based on current market conditions. The coupon rate for securities with certain features outlined in the offering documents may vary from the stated reference rate and spread. This includes, but is not limited to, securities with deferred rates, contingent distributions, caps, floors, and fixed-rate to float-rate features. In addition, variable rates for government and agency collateralized mortgage obligations ("CMO") and mortgage-backed securities ("MBS") are determined by tranches of underlying mortgage-backed security pools' cash flows into securities and pass-through rates which reflect the rate earned on the asset pool after management and guarantee fees are paid to the securitizing corporation. CMO and MBS variable rates are determined by a formula set forth in the security's offering documents.
(i) Security issued with a zero coupon. Income is recognized through the accretion of discount.

(l) Investment in affiliate.
(m) Yield changes daily to reflect current market conditions. Rate was the quoted yield as of December 31, 2024.

- (a) Security has a variable rate. Interest rates reset periodically. Rate stated was in effect as of December 31, 2024. For securities based on a published reference rate and spread, the reference rate and spread are presented. Certain variable rate securities do not indicate a reference rate and spread because they are determined by the issuer, remarketing agent, or offering documents and are based on current market conditions. The coupon rate for securities with certain features outlined in the offering documents may vary from the stated reference rate and spread. This includes, but is not limited to, securities with deferred rates, contingent distributions, caps, floors, and fixed-rate to float-rate features. In addition, variable rates for government and agency collateralized mortgage obligations ("CMO") and mortgage-backed securities ("MBS") are determined by tranches of underlying mortgage-backed security pools' cash flows into securities and pass-through rates which reflect the rate earned on the asset pool after management and guarantee fees are paid to the securitizing corporation. CMO and MBS variable rates are determined by a formula set forth in the security's offering documents.
- (b) The security is a direct debt of the agency and not collateralized by mortgages.
- (c) Security issued with a zero coupon. Income is recognized through the accretion of discount.
- (d) Treasury inflation indexed note, par amount is adjusted for inflation.
- (e) Security is a step-up bond where the coupon may increase or step up at a future date or as the result of an upgrade or downgrade to the credit rating of the issuer. Rate stated was the coupon as of December 31, 2024.
- (f) Convertible security.
- (g) Security is exempt from registration under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended. As of December 31, 2024, the value and the percentage of net assets of these securities was $24,666 and 1.9% of the Fund.
- (h) Investment in affiliate.
- (i) Yield changes daily to reflect current market conditions. Rate was the quoted yield as of December 31, 2024.

- (a) Security is exempt from registration under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended. As of December 31, 2024, the value and the percentage of net assets of these securities was $208,399 and 31.0% of the Fund.
- (b) Convertible security.
- (c) All or a portion of the security was on loan as of December 31, 2024.
- (d) Security issued with a zero coupon. Income is recognized through the accretion of discount.
- (e) Security is restricted to resale to institutional investors or subject to trading restrictions due to sanctions on foreign issuers. See Restricted Securities table following the Schedules of Investments.
- (f) The interest rate for this security is inversely affected by upgrades or downgrades to the credit rating of the issuer. Rate stated was the coupon as of December 31, 2024.
- (g) Security has a variable rate. Interest rates reset periodically. Rate stated was in effect as of December 31, 2024. For securities based on a published reference rate and spread, the reference rate and spread are presented. Certain variable rate securities do not indicate a reference rate and spread because they are determined by the issuer, remarketing agent, or offering documents and are based on current market conditions. The coupon rate for securities with certain features outlined in the offering documents may vary from the stated reference rate and spread. This includes, but is not limited to, securities with deferred rates, contingent distributions, caps, floors, and fixed-rate to float-rate features. In addition, variable rates for government and agency collateralized mortgage obligations ("CMO") and mortgage-backed securities ("MBS") are determined by tranches of underlying mortgage-backed security pools' cash flows into securities and pass-through rates which reflect the rate earned on the asset pool after management and guarantee fees are paid to the securitizing corporation. CMO and MBS variable rates are determined by a formula set forth in the security's offering documents.
- (h) Security is a step-up bond where the coupon may increase or step up at a future date or as the result of an upgrade or downgrade to the credit rating of the issuer. Rate stated was the coupon as of December 31, 2024.
- (i) This senior floating rate interest will settle after December 31, 2024. If a reference rate and spread is presented, it will go into effect upon settlement.
- (j) Security fair valued in good faith as a Level 3 security in accordance with the procedures approved by the Board of Trustees. Good faith fair valued securities are classified based on the applicable valuation inputs. See "Fair Value Measurement" in the Notes to Financial Statements.
- (k) Investment in affiliate.
- (l) Yield changes daily to reflect current market conditions. Rate was the quoted yield as of December 31, 2024.
